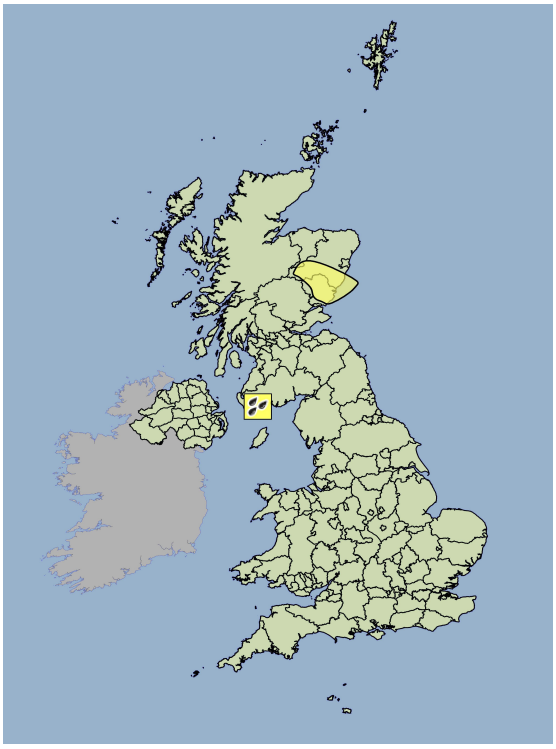
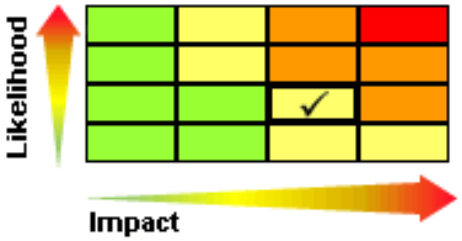
National Severe Weather Warning Service





CANCELLED

Chief Forecasters Assessment
A complex area of low pressure and its associated active frontal system will clear eastwards through Friday but may produce another 10 to 20 mm on top of the 40 to 70 mm recorded in some parts overnight.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 09:00 on Fri, 07th Nov 2014 until 18:00 on Fri, 07th Nov 2014

Outbreaks of rain will gradually clear eastern Scotland today but the public should be aware of the risk of further localised flooding and potential disruption to transport, within the coming hours.

This is an update to the warning first issued on Wednesday, much reduced in area but catering for residual effects from the overnight heavy rainfall.
